

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Béatrice BOUFOY-BASTICK (PhD) is a Senior Lecturer in French and TESOL at the University of the West Indies, Trinidad. She is an experienced academic writer and empirical researcher on culture in its multifarious forms. Born in Paris, she received her first and second degrees in languages from the Sorbonne, further postgraduate degrees from the universities of London and Rouen and her doctorate from the University of the West Indies. She has explored comparative cultures and shared her fascination with cultural diversity through her lecturing in different cultural settings across four continents. Her examined life of informed cultural experiences recently led her to initiate the research field of Culturometrics in which she brings quantitative tools to what has been mainly a field of qualitative study.

Joanna Diane CAYTAS graduated summa cum laude from Columbia University and received the Women's Forum Award 2010. She is a Hayek fellow at the Council on Advanced Value Economics with diversified consulting industry experience. Her research interests in the social sciences include identity, immigration, post-communist transition, paraconsistent logic and manufacture of scientific and media evidence. Email: jdm2168@columbia.edu.

Zizi GOSCHIN is professor of Statistics and Regional Statistics, Ph.D, at Bucharest Academy of Economic Studies, Faculty of Economic Cybernetics, Informatics and Statistics, Statistics and Econometrics Department. She is a well known researcher in the field of regional economics and regional statistics, being the Editor-in-Chief of the Romanian Journal of Regional Science (www.rrsa.ro/rjrs), and member in the International Advisory Board. Her research interests are focused on the impact of migration flows at regional level. Contact: Piata Romana nr.6, sector I, Bucharest, Phone: +0040213191900; E-mail: zizigoschin@yahoo.com.

Saša KICOŠEV, since 1996 associate professor at the Department of Geography, Tourism and Hotel Management, University of Novi Sad. He teaches courses in Political geography, Spatial Planning in Tourism, Geographic Base of Spatial Planning and post-graduate course in Geographic Aspects of Spatial Planning in Tourism. Since 1997 he is the Head of the Center for Geographic Information Systems (GIS) at the Institute of Geography, Faculty of Sciences in Novi Sad. He published more than 200 scientific papers in Serbia and abroad. His main professional interests are problems of ethnic and religious development of population in AP Vojvodina and development and implementation of geographic informational systems.

Lia POP is university professor at the Department of Political Sciences and Communication, University of Oradea. She is the Director of the Editorial Board of the Journal of Identity and Migration Studies (JIMS) and the founder of the Research Center for Identity and Migration Issues (RCIMI).

NAGY Imre is full professor, senior research fellow. Since 1993 a Senior Research Associate of the Center for Regional Research of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences in Pécs. From 2002 to 2009 he was a Head of Department of Center for Regional Research in Békéscsaba. Since 2010 a full professor at University of Novi Sad, Serbia. During scientific career, his researches encompassed few scientific disciplines and fields: Problems of environment (Western Balkans), Urban ecology, Problems of border regions and Cooperation in the Balkans (relations between Hungary and Serbia, Hungary and Croatia, Serbia and Croatia).

Dušan D. RISTIĆ is a PhD student and teaching assistant at Department of Sociology, Faculty of Philosophy – University of Novi Sad, where he graduated (2006) and obtained his Master's degree (2009) in Sociology. His professional interests are the fields of sociology of culture, identity, knowledge, media and communication studies. Contact: dusanristic@gmail.com.

Monica ROMAN is Professor of Business Statistics and Econometrics, Ph.D, at the Bucharest Academy of Economic Studies, Faculty of Economic Cybernetics, Informatics and Statistics, Statistics and Econometrics Department, She has conducted as director (principal investigator) 6 research projects financed by national or international programmes. Her topics of interest are migration, labor economics, higher education and knowledge economy, regional studies. Contact: Piata Romana nr.6, sector I, Bucharest, Phone: +0040213191900; E-mail: mroman@ase.ro.

Michael John SULLIVAN is an Assistant Professor, Department of International Relations, St. Mary's University, San Antonio, TX USA. He received his PhD from Princeton University's Department of Politics in 2011, where he authored a dissertation entitled "A Pathway to Citizenship through Contributions in Relationships." Contact: msullivan6@mail.stmarytx.edu.

Marius I. TĂȚAR (PhD) is a Lecturer in Political Science at the University of Oradea, Department of Political Science and Communication. His main research areas include political participation and democratization in Central and Eastern Europe. Contact: Str. Traian Blajovici nr. 2 Oradea, 410238, Romania, E-mail: mtatar@uoradea.ro.